Health benefits of drinking structured water.

What is Structured water?

Structured water is water that had their molecules energised and aligned in a hexagonal formation.

This reduces the surface tension and allows the molecules to dissociate from clustering that allows for more effective binding to nutrients and oxygen.

Molecules form H_3O_2 which is higher in oxygen than normal H_2O .

Structured water is cleared from memories caused by pollution.

Structuring is done by vibrating the water with certain frequencies.

Water when stored loses energy and forms large clusters to conserve energy, these clusters are then open to pollution.

Our cell tubes through which the water is absorbed are so small it can only absorb one molecule at a time and water clusters are not utilized.

Health benefits from drinking structured water

Structured water assists to fully hydrate cells.

Hydrates cells 3 times faster than ordinary water.

Supports cellular function and energy levels.

Enable important cellular communication to the brain.

Improves short term memory.

Improves the taste of water.

Improve blood circulation.

Improve blood oxygen levels.

Improves energy levels.

Strong anti-oxidant to prolong life.

Help with absorption of minerals and vitamins.

Improve healthy intestinal flora.

Improve immune system.

Good anti histamine reduces pain.

Disinfectant effect on pathogens in water, kill E.coli up to 2 parts per million.

Detoxifies the body.

Improves skin hydration.

Drinking structured water removes many symptoms like stiff joints, heartburn and headaches.

Effects of dehydration that can be prevented by drinking structured water.

- 1) Thickens blood, straining the hart and reducing nutrient absorption.
- 2) Promotes several forms of cancer like breast and colon cancer.
- 3) It slows down metabolism storing fat.
- 4) Causes daytime fatigue
- 5) Energy loss
- 6) Promotes depression and chronic fatigue syndrome.
- 7) Promotes joint friction and pain.
- 8) Still feeling thirsty after water intake.

Other benefits of structured water.

Water savings up to 30%

Dissolve soap better for cleaner washing.

Benefits plant growth and prevents frost damage to plants.

Benefits animal health, growth and energy levels.

Increase strength of cement and concrete.
